

BORDERNET Work
Dissemination Conference
Luxembourg, 26 Nov, 2012

Enhance Participatory Prevention with Migrants/ Ethnic Minority Communities:
From Culturally-Sensitive to Community-Based

Dr. Elena Kabakchieva, HESED Sofia, Bulgaria

The Objective:

To study, assess and select HIV/STI prevention models with special focus on community participation, community development and quality assurance

BORDER|NET

The Best Practices
Include:

- Evidence-based participatory model of prevention POL (especially effective for Roma community) implemented by HESED, Sofia
- PaKoMi project of the Deutsche AIDS-Hilfe, Berlin
- PARC project of AIDS-Hilfe, Wien
- AIDS & Mobility project of AICS, Tallinn

BORDER|NET

The Most Important Points:

- A combination of research of the community characteristics related to the risk behaviour
- Activities directed to easy-to-change factors at community and individual level
- Tested successfully in practice
- Cost-effective and evidence-based practices which are of great importance in a period of economic stagnation

BORDER|NET

Useful links:

- www.bordernet.eu
- www.pq-hiv.de/
- <http://www.aidsmobility.org/324.0.html>

